Lady Jacket Volleyball Blog

November 3, 2015

Something I have been pondering lately is the way we mark our time. It is a little weird to explain but we mark our time by what we deem important. For me, that means my time is in increments of seasons - volleyball seasons to be specific. When I remember an event, I remember it being in a specific season in my career. Like, when I think about the time that I tore my abdomen I consequently refer to the fall season of my sophomore year. What this says about me is that volleyball is one of my biggest commitments in my life.

My next thought about the issue of time compartmentalization was a little disturbing: why don't I mark my time with points in my walk with Christ? This may seem abstract, but the more I think about it the more I can piece it together. Maybe I was in a volleyball season, but what was the Lord teaching or showing me at that point in time? What was I struggling with that He used to mold me into who I am today? How was I growing? What did I find in scripture that I had never seen before? These are the things I want to be thinking of when I want to date an event in my life. I don't want to think about what I was doing, I want to think about what God was doing. So, even if I am in a volleyball season, I don't want it to be about kills, errors, and percentages. I want to reflect on the conversations, prayers, and hardships that we endured to spread His love through a game we love. Now when I think about the tear in my abdomen I don't think about it simply stopping my play. I think of the tear as a way my Father was showing me that I am more than just a volleyball player and my intrinsic value lies in Him and Him alone. I have to say, I like that perspective so much more.

Connecting these thoughts to what is taking place in our season can be summed up in one word: injuries. Abby Shelton just came off of an ankle sprain this past weekend that took her off the court for over a week. Krissy Pratt suffered a serious concussion last Tuesday that prevented her from even travelling with us this past weekend. Our lineup has been changed over and over to accommodate for the injuries we suffer, and we can't help but ask God what He's doing. As hard as it is to see His plan amidst the difficulties we face now, I can only hope that we would mark this time by what He will teach us throughout the rest of the season. Despite adversity, however, we won two five-set thrillers against Trevecca and KWC. One of our goals as a team this season is to not lose a fifth set, and we put ourselves to the test twice in less than 24 hours. I'm proud of my team because we never once showed a lack of confidence in our ability to win. We were down in the fifth sets both times and came back to win, which is extremely hard to do. I can only attribute these victories to the Lord allowing us to shine in crucial moments, which He often does when we have nothing left. Isaiah 40:29 says, "He gives power to the weak and strength to the powerless." That verse is being made more real to me each day as the Lord continues to give me strength. I see this in my teammates as well and am so thankful that we serve a God who sympathizes with our weaknesses and helps us to overcome them.

Please be praying for the injuries on our team as well as back to back games this week - Tuesday home vs IU East and Wednesday at Ursuline. Also, a huge thanks to the parents that travel to places like Kentucky and Tennessee just to watch us play...you are such an incredible blessing to all of us! We love you all, have a wonderful week!

Tonight's Match

The Cedarville University women's volleyball team hosts the Indiana University East Red Wolves tonight in a non-conference contest in the Callan Athletic Center.

Cedarville, under the direction of eighth-year Head Coach Doug Walters (171-119), enters tonight's encounter with a 14-13 record (8-1 G-MAC) and an unblemished mark (9-0) at home during the 2015 campaign. CU posted road five-set victories over league opponents Trevecca and Kentucky Wesleyan this past weekend to secure the #1 seed in the G-MAC Blue Division.

Indiana East, NAIA members of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (KIAC), is 23-13 this season and has won five straight matches. The Red Wolves most recent competition includes 3-0 KIAC sweeps on Saturday over Carlow and Cincinnati Christian in Cincinnati.

Four juniors are pacing the Lady Jackets in the 2015 season. Outside hitter Abby Shelton leads the offensive attack with 326 kills and 3.84 kills per set. Rachel Krikke, a 6-1 middle hitter and the current G-MAC Volleyball Athlete of the Week, tops the squad with a .361 attack percentage and 79 blocks.

Libero Angela Becker paces the back row with 388 digs while setter Kristin Cardwell has handed out 795 assists.

Head Coach Abigail Niekamp is in her third season (66-42) at Indiana East after previously serving as an assistant with the Red Wolves.

Mallory Livingston, a 5-9 senior outside hitter, tops the Red Wolves attack with 495 kills and 3.78 kills per set. Rookie setter Abbey Ketchem directs the offense while posting 1,013 assists.

IU East owns a 4-2 lead in the all-time series with the Lady Jackets. The teams last met on Nov. 5, 2013 - a 25-20, 25-19, 25-12 CU win over the Red Wolves in Cedarville, Ohio.

Head Coach Doug Walters

Doug Walters has been the head volleyball coach at Cedarville University since 2008. He is the sixth head coach in the program's history.

The Lady Jackets have posted 157 victories during Walters' seven-year tenure. The list of honors includes the 2008 NCCAA championship as well as three consecutive Great Midwest Athletic Conference crowns in 2012, 2013, and 2014.

During the school's first active season in NCAA Division II in 2012, his squad rolled to a 32-6 overall mark and was a perfect 8-0 in the G-MAC. Cedarville went on to win the inaugural G-MAC Tournament and Walters was ultimately voted the league's Coach of the Year.

The Jackets, who finished 23-14 overall in 2013, repeated the feat after sharing the league's best regular season record at 12-2. They went on the road to claim their second straight G-MAC Tournament trophy.

Then, in 2014, CU made it a three-peat after rolling through the league schedule with a 10-1 regular season mark. The Jackets hosted the G-MAC Tournament as the #1 seed and locked down their third straight title to finish 20-13.

Walters' first season with the Lady Jackets in 2008 was a memorable one as he guided the program to its third National Christian College Athletic Association title in four years. He was tabbed the NCCAA National Coach of the Year.

Cedarville finished with a 27-12 record overall that season and tied for fourth place out of 15 teams in the American Midwest Conference with a 10-4 mark. The Lady Jackets qualified for the AMC Tournament and advanced to the semifinals.

Despite going 15-23 overall in 2009, the Lady Jackets were the #2 seed in the AMC Tournament after going 8-4 in the league. The Jackets were 18-20 and 6-4 AMC in 2010 while advancing to the semifinals of the conference tournament.

Cedarville finished with a 22-18 mark in 2011 during the school's NCAA provisional year and was the No. 1 seed in the Ohio Independent Championship Tournament.

Walters came to Cedarville after assembling a 128-73 record in nine years of high school coaching in southern Ohio. He spent his last two seasons at the prep level at Milford High School, a Division I program near Cincinnati.

Walters previously spent seven years building Eastern High School in Sardinia into one of the top Division III programs in Ohio. The Warriors, who were ranked in the state's Top 10 in three different seasons, won four conference titles, two sectional championships, and were the district runner-up once. He was a four-time conference Coach of the Year and saw eight players continue their careers at the collegiate level.

Walters was founder and former director of the Greater Miami Volleyball Club. The GMVC was started in 2003, was a Junior Olympic organization, and was recognized as one of the top regional clubs in the Cincinnati area.

Walters continues to be involved at the club level. He is a National Team Coach for the Elevation Volleyball Club based out of Mason, Ohio.

Additionally, Walters is the volleyball chair of the Great Midwest Athletic Conference. He is also the chair of the NCAA Division II Women's Volleyball Midwest Regional Advisory Committee and serves on the Division II Women's Volleyball National Committee.

Walters is a 1997 graduate of Northern Kentucky University and he earned his master's degree from the University of Dayton in 2003. Doug and his wife, Angela, reside in Morrow, Ohio with their daughter Caitlyn, 13.
